

Creating Pipeline

Infrared imaging of the pipeline is captured by the cameras.

Bright red indicate the welding sites and give the welder the ability to easily monitor and control the steel welding.

Cameras are used to view the welding of steel to create defect-free pipeline.

The cameras allow the welding to be done remotely keeping the welder away from hot temperatures, welding sparks/debris, and the overall hazardous area.